I spoke with Palmer's mayor yesterday. I went through the Valley projects that I know of in the supplemental- I can not find a reason to fund any of the ones I know of- and Lyda has NOT supported them until we got elected... "Of all the nerve" is right. We're getting comments esp pertaining to this request for new property aquisition for a very small group (four or five people perhaps) who want to start up a new Performing Arts council, despite having a very successful and community-supported Valley Performing Arts that's been in private sector operations for many years. Lyda's always been a personal contributor to VPA, and never supported govt support of the organization. She's doing this to put us in a corner. Same goes for the recyling center. And Huggins' $2million boy scouts camp? And all the other requests too, Mike, I just don't see them as state priorities.

Lyda got to be a bit nervous about the supplemental. She inaccurately claimed that you would support every valley project (if it made it back in). Her shining example was the ballfields, which voted unanimously to not support the full amount. She can't possibly think that it is a good use of state resources to fund the Palmer Arts Council. And she got too far out supporting restoring the $5 million for the Palmer-Wasilla Highway, which is not needed until FY2010. In my last conversation with Stedman, I passed along that we are finding problems with some items in the supplemental. He is very anxious to know which ones and claimed, "there is no need to throw rocks." My response is … of all the nerve.

What was Friday's decision re: when the timeline is to be shared with leggies and staffers so they can figure their special session dates?

Pls let me know when you find oput what all those positions were that were cut (besides the obvious- DPS and oil/gas). Again, I can't imagine advocating for increasing the operating budget from where leggies have reduced it. Thanks

Subject: Operating budget

What are the positions that leggies cut in operations, besides DPS and oil/gas? Pls advocate for those positions, but I can't imagine why we'd push for more new state employees outside those two areas, unless I'm missing something. AP reported we're asking them to restore 148 new positions? Outside the two areas, I don't support increasing what they cut.

Hello Sarah,

Remember me...pesky landlord of the wonderful Ms. Ivy Frye? I wanted to touch base with you in regards to the Silver Anniversary Celebration of Statehood. I know the Juneau Empire is running a story series and looking for folks to interview but I was wondering if you were doing a larger scale search or had a historian doing research on the early days of Statehood. The reason I ask is that my Grandfather was Hugh J. Wade, first Secretary of State, with Bill Egan. He was a great man and actually was asked to run the state directly after they were elected because Bill Egan became very sick for the first 6-8 months of Statehood. (So he was actually the first Governor...pretty cool eh?) Anyhow...my Mother, Sue McKeown, would be a great resource if you are indeed looking for some history and of course she would love to participate. We have a lot of Alaskan pride in our family and we would love to share it. She and my Dad actually had their wedding reception in the Governors Mansion the summer of 1959...I am not sure but I think they may be the only couple to have celebrated there. Please let me know of the plans to commemorate the big 50!

Anyways, congrats on the baby and I hope all is going well. I also hope you don't think this is to forward contacting via email...if so let me know and I will apologize.

Sincerely,

Marty McKeown

Alaskan

p.s. Can you squash all of those Capital Move bills for me? Not tonite...but by Monday would be great!? ;-)
